Honouring Legacy, Vision, and Responsibility

In line with its institutional vision and its commitment to advancing social responsibility in business and society, GIOYA Higher Education Institution confers, on a biennial basis, the Laurea Honoris Causa upon individuals whose professional journeys stand as exemplary models of leadership, integrity, innovation, and lasting contribution. In this edition, GIOYA HEI honours Bruno Ceretto and Giancarlo Minardi, recognising two remarkable careers that, in different fields, have united achievement with values, vision with responsibility, and success with enduring human significance.

Bruno Ceretto

Honoured for embodying a model of entrepreneurship in which business excellence is inseparable from beauty, cultural heritage, and profound respect for territory. Through his contribution to Italian wine and the international prestige of the Langhe, he has demonstrated how enterprise can also preserve identity, refinement, and values across generations.

Giancarlo Minardi

Recognised for an extraordinary career shaped by entrepreneurial vision, technical innovation, and unwavering ethical integrity. As founder of the Minardi Formula One Team, he built a legacy defined not only by achievement, but also by mentorship, fairness, and a lasting commitment to the highest values of sport and enterprise.
